

St Justus visit

The other day we visited st Justus church and we was asked to look at some differences between our church St John fisher and their church a few things I noticed were: there was no altar servers, they had a big font like a miniature swimming pool. They had a vicar who was a girl called Helen but at our church girls are not allowed to be in charge of mass. Their church was a bit bigger than ours and they had a Sunday school which their children could go to while their parents were having mass, they do not always have communion which I found very strange. We all had a go walking into the font it was very fun luckily it was not filled with water otherwise we would get wet. After every mass they all go to a little room and have tea and biscuits. In the mass room they have a screen with all the hymn words on so they don't need books and they can have both of their hands free. I really enjoyed my visit to st Justus I would love to go there again.
